No where, except in the mactitious resolutions of so called mass meetings, like that which Douglas directed the Democracy of this city to hold in January, can we find anything like confidence in the sincerity of our Senator. And even at the meeting here, which was in truth but a heavy affair, one of the speakers manifested some inclination to have a fair expression, but it seems this was the last thing intended by the wire workers, and the gentleman was induced to withdraw his motion, for the sake of what he will eventually discover is but a deceitful "harmony." Yet even this little cloud shows what is the state of the political atmosphere. It is in the highest electrical condition possible, and one marked change in the aspect of affairs in that flash is all that is needed to break up the forced calm into a destructive storm. I know many who are restive under the lash; the harness galls too deeply long to be borne, and but for that political hecus pocus which has hitherto managed to identify the man with the cause, (as if they were one!) the car and its team would

A Valuable Invention, Perhaps.—The Kalamaseo Gazette states that Mr. E. R. Ball of that city, has recently discovered a mode of applying lever power, which is destined to bring about an entire revolution in the process of raising large City and Country Trade. All who want first rate hodies by mechanical means. The editor of the articles, at Gazette saw a weight of 640 pounds raised by this machine, by the strength of a single cotton will please give us a call. April 17:57 tf-43 threat, and states that if the weight had been ten times as heavy, the result would have been Stewart's Lurge Oven, Air-Tight the same. This discovery consists in such an application of proper machinery to heavy bodies, eich as locomotives, heavy eastings, boats in COOKING STOVE dock yards, and the like, as to procure a balance in the object itself, then by rocking the body to and fro on certain standards or studs, connected bility and convenience. This is warranted to be ious, very simple, and at the same time entirely efficacious; so that one man can raise a lucomctive that gets thrown from the track with as much ease and certainty as he could raise a bucket of water with a windlass. So heavy pieces of ore may be raised, canal boa's, engines and boilers, and in short any compact and heavy body to which the machine could be applied. The Gazette concludes its article, by saying : "We think we may safely say, that Mr. Ball ha made a discovery that will be of nealeulable utility in the mechanical world.

Praying by Word of Command.—The West Pointers are having a lively time of it, in consequence of the chaplain, an Episcopalian, insisting syntakeythat they shall kneel in certain parts of the services. The cadets refuse to comply, and the commander, taking part with the chaplain, says they shall kneel. The cadets reply that they will do so, previded he gives the word of command and not otherwise. The small attendence at this meeting shows conclusively how little real strength these disorganizers have in the state; renders any further attempts at mischief, on their part, futile and rid culous; and leaves their resolutions and proceedings as harmless as those of a mere town

The meeting adopted a platform asserting the right of the people of all territories to regulate their domestic institutions, and vote on the adoption of their constitutions; opposing the repurchase of the Wabash & Erie Canal (which no sane man ever thinks of doing); recommending the adoption of a state sub-treasury; and oppos ing banks and paper money.
